

AGRICULTURAL ARSENAL—Some of the agricultural conservation practices being carried on by the army in the Joliet arsenal area are explained by Milnott Silliman, Kankakee soil conservationist, to other district conservationists who aided in planning the new research station. Left to right: Ernest Rose, Henry, Ill.; William Russell, Decatur; Roy

Tomilson, Champaign; Lt. Col. Raymond C. Costabile, commanding officer of the arsenal; Mr. Silliman; Maj. F. L. Stayner, arsenal post engineer; H. B. Atkinson, research station aid; Dr. C. A. Van Dorn, head of the new research station; Harry Beason, Decatur; C. M. Flint, DeKalb, and C. E. Mick, Bloomington.